Sequoia Board Okehs Budget, Hears Architect Plan Protest

Sequoia High School trustees this week voted to meet with the president of the Northern California Chapter, American Institute of Architects, to discuss architect fees, following a controversy over fee architects can charge on the projected San Carlos-Belmont high school.

In a letter to the board, Donald B. Kirby, president of the A. I. A. chapter, stated that the chapter was anxious to prevent any misunderstanding on the matter of fees.

He stated that "architectural services should be selected on the basis of the professional competence and experience of the architect. Selection should never be made on a basis of increased or decreased fees."

"I suppose he's going to come down here and sell us on an 8 per cent fee for everyone," commented Trustee Merritt Hosmer. "We have two considerations, first that we have a competent architect, and second that we get one as cheaply as possible."

The question of architect's fees came up last Friday night when trustees met with architects applying for the San Carlos-Belmont job. Arthur Janssen, architect for the Menlo Park school, several months ago had told the board that under the code of the profession he could drop his fee on the north end school 2 per cent (actually 1 per cent for each school) because of duplicated work.

Friday night he told trustees that since other architects had been called in for consideration by the board he now could only drop the fee 1 per cent. Since the estimated cost of the north end school is $1,500,000, a 1 per cent reduction would amount to a $15,000 saving, 2 per cent a $30,000 saving.

Following the Friday night meeting, school officials said that one of the other three architectural firms seeking the job had offered to reduce its fee to 7 per cent.

Kirby in his letter said that 8 per cent is the recommended minimum fee for architectural services on school work throughout the state.

He pointed out that a 7 per cent fee was accepted recently in San Francisco, because the school district there had retained an expert consultant, and that the department of public works furnishes certain services to the architect which reduces his cost.

Harold Lindsay, speaking from the audience, pointed out that Janssen had been called in to do preliminary work for the north end school in connection with the recent bond issue.

Board Pres. Charles Burgess said that as a matter of convenience, Janssen was asked to prepare the preliminary sketches on the north end school since he was working on the Menlo Park plans.

The question of a contract with Janssen for the north end school came up late in June, but Keith Cole and Kenneth Cole, the new trustees, asked that it be postponed until after they took office on July 1.

Sequoia High School trustees this week adopted a record $1,173,284 budget, an increase of $117,726 over the 1948-49 budget, and announced that the budget would use the full $1 tax limit of the district.

The budget as adopted showed a rise of $47,126 over the preliminary budget approved in June. The teacher salary budget was increased from $609,660 to $623,500 to cover salary increases voted a week ago by the board.

An increase of $24,400 was included in the operation budget setting it as adopted at $115,351. The capital outlay fund was raised from $50,338 to $92,318, a $41,980 jump, while the undistributed reserve was dropped from $142,901 to $110,147.

Board Pres. Charles Burgess said that $12,950 had been transferred from the reserve to the capital outlay fund to cover the cost of boiler replacement, since the $20,000 set aside for the boilers in the 1948 bond issue was not sufficient to cover the cost of the job.

The capital outlay fund also included money for erection of night lights on the football field. Bids on the night lighting job are to be opened at an adjourned meeting Friday night.

Burgess said that while the tax rate has not yet been figured out, it should be an even dollar, the maximum sum the district can tax legally.

Trustees discussed salary increases for non-certified employes, administrators and night school teachers, but postponed action until the Friday meeting.

Supt. Clyde Ogden said that a survey of salaries of non-certified employes was being made but the report was not ready. He said the trustees could take up the report in executive session.

The board also postponed action on salary increases for the dean of boys, dean of girls, head counsellor and night school principal after hearing a report of comparative salaries in other districts.

Night School Principal Scovel S. Mayo made the request for night school teacher pay increases. He said that during the period when the regular teachers were granted three or four raises, the night school teachers were given only one salary increase.

Mayo said that night school teachers in Palo Alto get $3.50 an hour, in San Mateo $3.28 and at Sequoia $3.50. He said the state average was $3.41 an hour and the Bay Area average $3.65.

Last night the board also:

Postponed until Friday action on the leasing of the Burdette property in Belmont.

Granted the Civil Air Patrol permission to meet monthly at the high school.

Heard Ogden say he would check the status of Sequoia's application for an ROTC unit after Trustee Merritt Hosmer asked that the application be renewed.

Boy, 13, Dies After Crash Of Bike-Car

Robert Lee Hudson, 13, died Monday at 5:10 p.m. at the Community Hospital as the result of an accident yesterday morning involving a bicycle he was riding and an automobile driven by Alfa W. Bean, 83 Spencer Ln., Atherton.

He was the third person killed this year in Redwood City accidents. James Harris, 37, of San Francisco, the second person, died Saturday morning after a crackup on Bayshore Hwy. early Thursday.

Young Hudson suffered a basal fracture of the skull when his bicycle went off a curb on El Camino Real near Diller St. and struck the side of the automobile.

He was the son of Mrs. Gladys Elma Moorhead of Lomita Park and Thomas R. Hudson of Redwood City, brother of James T. Hudson of Redwood City, and the grandson of Mrs. O. S. Bowman of Lomita Park and of C. L. Hudson of Redwood City.

His home was with his mother at 148 Felipe St., Lomita Park.

The youngster was born in Jamesboro, Ark.

Funeral services were held Wednesday at 11 a.m. from the new White Oaks Chapel six blocks north of Whipple Ave. on El Camino Real. Burial will be at Jamesboro.

Services were handled by Roller, Hapgood & Lorentzen.

Sewer Leaks Told Council

Tests conducted by the Redwood City Engineering Dept. show that interceptor sewer mains installed by Contractor Peter Sorensen are leaking at a rate far exceeding contract specifications.

City Engineer Glenn Jain said this week that one 2892-foot length of 27-inch and 30-inch main is leaking at a rate of 122,588 gallons per mile per day, that one 2636-foot length of 30-inch main is leaking at a rate of 101,100 gallons per mile per day and that one 256-foot length of 30-inch main is leaking at a rate of 344,000 gallons per mile per day.

Specifications call for a line which will leak only 20,000 gallons per mile per day.

The leakage is from the outside into the mains which are below sea level along Bayshore Hwy. and the Pulgas Line and which will feed the city's new sewage disposal plant.

The matter first came up several weeks ago when Jain recommended that the city not accept the line until it more closely meets specifications.

He said last night that Sorensen is working on joints with a new compound and may be able to reduce the leakage that way.

LONG SAFETY RECORD—Capt. William T. Newkirk, of 1450 Alameda, San Carlos, veteran American Airlines pilot, is congratulated by W. W. Kessler, the airline's manager of operations at Mills Field after Kessler had presented the pilot with his 10-year pin for a decade of flying service with the company. Newkirk, who has flown two million miles, operated his own flying service in Los Angeles before he joined American Airlines in 1939. During the war he flew for the Air Transport Command.

Supervisors Appoint Recorder

Miss Ruth Kirste of Redwood City Tuesday was appointed San Mateo County recorder.

She will serve during the unexpired term of former Recorder T. Clark Rice, who died five weeks ago.

The appointment was made this morning in Redwood City by the county board of supervisors.

Miss Kirste is 45. She was born in Redwood City, attended public schools here and now resides at 411 Stambaugh St.

She has been in the county recorder's office 14 years and at present is assistant recorder.

Her appointment was made effective Aug. 16. She will serve until January, 1951, when the elected recorder at the June, 1950, elections will take office.

Miss Kirste said today she "hasn't given a thought" to seeking the elective office in 1950.

Her salary as recorder will be $6500 a year.

There were 15 applicants for the appointment as county recorder, according to Col. Henry W. Edmonds, chairman of the board of supervisors.

And Supervisors Martin Poss and Edward McDonald made it clear at this morning's meeting that they are not interested in the elective job—despite any implications to the contrary made by County Executive Frederick Peterson.

Said Poss:

"At no time have I even given a thought to wanting the job, nor would I take it if it were offered."

And McDonald:

"I never was interested. I wouldn't accept it. I will not run for it in 1950. That ought to be definite enough."

Mr. Rice died slightly more than a month ago, at the age of 82, after serving as county recorder for approximately 30 years.

Belmont Woman Dies Of Polio

A 25-year-old Belmont woman died Sunday in Community Hospital of infantile paralysis, the San Mateo County Health and Welfare Dept. reported today.

The death of Mrs. Dolores Chisholm, 2030 Lyon Ave., is San Mateo County's fourth polio fatality this year.

Dr. Harlan Wynns, superintendent of the health division, said that Mrs. Chisholm had been ill about a week and was admitted to the hospital last Friday. She had been in a respirator.

A total of 27 cases of polio this year, Dr. Wynne declared, have occurred in the county

Mrs. Chisholm is survived by her husband, Lorne W. Chisholm, a San Francisco advertising man, and a daughter, Kathy, 4.

The Chisholms were married in 1944 and moved to Belmont two years ago after Chisholm was released from the service. He formerly lived in Burlingame, and is the son of Mrs. James Chisholm, and the late Mr. Chisholm.

Funeral arrangements will be handled by the Crosby N. Gray Mortuary.

Trustees Okeh School Boilers

The Sequoia High School Board of Trustees this week granted the bid on a new boiler system on the school but no decision was made on whether a new boys' gymnasium would be erected at the school.

Trustees had announced earlier that large size boilers would have to be installed if the gymnasium was to be erected and in calling for bids asked for alternates on large and small size boilers.

However, on the recommendation of Engineer George R. Keller, trustees accepted the bid on the large boilers.

The bid was granted to the James Nelson Co. at $32,950. Keller pointed out that there was only a difference of $1200 between the large and small boilers and that the large boiler would take care of any future expansion.

Dolwig to Take Action On El Camino Lighting

Assemblyman Richard Dolwig this week notified the Redwood City council by letter that he would take the city's pleas for overhead lighting on El Camino Real south of Five Points to the legislature.

The council's request had been turned down by the highway division.

Fireman Injured In Auto Accident

A San Carlos Fire Dept. lieutenant sustained minor injuries Saturday afternoon when his car was involved in an automobile accident while he was driving to the scene of a fire.

The fire department car was driven by Lt. Miller E. Thomas and collided with a car driven by Letetia Marie Clyne, 62, 176 Inner Circle. Miss Clyne was driving west on Arroyo St. and was cited for failure to heed a red light and siren. Thomas was driving south on Cedar St. heading to the scene of a small grass fire.

Thomas was treated for minor injuries by a local doctor and was scheduled to be X-rayed today to determine if there were any broken bones or internal injuries. Police said that both cars were severely damaged.

TACKLES NEW JOB—Miss Kathleen Grant, newly elected city clerk in San Carlos, goes to work at her new position after receiving the nod from the city council. Prior to being named clerk Miss Grant had served as a deputy under Beatrice Roberts who resigned last month.

Trustees Set $1.50 As Rate for 1949-50; Group Urges Increase

Basing their action on what they called "an emergency situation," the Redwood City Elementary School Board of Trustees voted this week to raise the district's tax rate from $1.30 to $1.50 per $100 assessed valuation.

The vote came after trustees declared they did not think there was any other way to eliminate the congested situation in Redwood City schools and that the money was needed to carry on a program to alleviate the condition.

The action to raise the tax rate was taken by Trustees Harold Robbins and Louis Behrens. Mrs. Eleanor Keyes, the third trustee, was not present at this week's budget meeting but had declared she was in favor of the $1.50 tax rate.

A citizens' committee, headed by W. Paul Whaley, argued before the board for the tax raise, declaring they thought it was the "thing to do."

"Since the people have voted to raise the tax rate to $1.50 as a maximum," declared Whaley, "I think that indicates their willingness to go the limit."

The district, by law, is now taxed to capacity.

Citizens' committee members argued that the board need not maintain the $1.50 rate next year, but that they thought the raise this year was necessary to take care of the present needs of the district.

In voting the tax raise, trustees also gave their approval to the budget for the 1949-50 fiscal year. The total current expense budget now stands at $780,895, $122,995 over last year's figure.

Adoption of the new tax rate will add $60,000 to the capital outlay fund which now stands at $155,170.

Largest single item on the budget is for teachers' salaries with a total of $595,970. This is an increase of $114,920 over the teacher salary figure in the current budget.

Other budgetary figures include: Operation of school plant, $60,830, an increase of $1990; other expense of instruction, $55,440, an increase of $7550; maintenance, $21,500, an increase of $1200; and auxiliary services, $10,480, an increase of $2230.

The citizens' committee, appointed a month ago to study the building problems in the school district, approved the budget figures although they admitted there might be some question of "salesmanship" involved in selling the idea to the public.

Harold Anderson, a member of the committee, declared he was "heartily in accord" with the tax raise because he felt the district "should build up a little reserve." Anderson had brought out the point that land was getting expensive and the district needed matters and tax matters were decided on a year-to-year basis. "A year from now we may drop the tax rate," said Robbins, "but right now I think we need it at $1.50."

Trustees took no action on the proposed bond election. The citizens' committee, going along with their recommendation to raise the tax rate to $1.50, had also recommended calling a bond issue of more than $500,000 to raise funds for a school building program.

Trustees, Architect Arthur Janssen, and a committee of engineers, spent considerable time in a discussion concerning Janssen's recommendations that new boilers be installed at the McKinley School and that a new boiler room be built on the school property.

Engineers submitted plans for a complete new boiler plant expected to cost more than $30,000 which would provide heat for the whole school.

Bride Sues For Divorce

A Burlingame woman, a bride of a month and five days, has filed suit for divorce this week, charging her husband, a wealthy retired electrical contractor, with extreme cruelty.

The divorce suit was filed in superior court here by Mrs. Barbara B. Armstrong against George Armstrong, 109 La Cuesta Dr., Burlingame.

Dep. Dist. Atty. Vern Vail also said that at Mrs. Armstrong's request he yesterday issued a complaint charging Armstrong with battery. Mrs. Armstrong told him that on July 27 her husband locked her in the house and beat her.

The Armstrongs were married in Reno on June 13 this year, and separated on July 18.

Mrs. Armstrong stated that there is no community property, but that her husband is worth more than $200,000 and has an income of over $500 a month. She stated that $250 a month would be reasonable maintenance for her, and $1000 would be reasonable for her attorney, Raymond Daba of Redwood City.

Weymouth Appointed To Recreation Group

Ray A. Weymouth, 1703 Hopkins Ave., was appointed to the Redwood City Park Recreation Commission by City Mgr. E. A. Rolison.

The appointment, which fills a long-standing vacancy, took place at a city council meeting.

Belmont City Officials Hit Annexation Ideas Of SM Councilman

Three Belmont city officials declared in effect this week that they thought Belmont people would "rather paddle their own canoe" than consider annexation to San Mateo. Belmont's Mayor Bayley Kohlmeier said he did not think Belmont wanted to "be annexed to San Mateo or any other city in the county."

The city officials, Kohlmeier, City Atty. Paul McCarthy and City Councilman Donnell McCarthy took a negative viewpoint of San Mateo City Councilman Carroll Speer's suggestion that now was the time to annex Belmont to San Mateo.

Speers made the suggestion at Monday afternoon's groundbreaking ceremonies for a new Lester's supermarket in South San Mateo. He said San Mateo, still growing, could use the room for expansion annexation of Belmont would provide, and Belmont would benefit by becoming a part of San Mateo.

Speers noted that the streets in the San Mateo Knolls subdivision had been so laid out that they were contiguous to Belmont, and that opening of the tract in the boundary area would make annexation feasible.

But two other San Mateo city councilmen—Mayor Daniel Creedon and George A. Mann—told the Redwood City Tribune today the annexation proposal was strictly Speers' idea, and had not even been discussed by the council.

"Belmont's happy running her own affairs in her own way," Mayor Kohlmeier said, "I think Speers got a little wound up and spoke out of turn."

Kohlmeier said there had been talk of a Belmont-San Mateo annexation for years, but that was the first time he had heard of any serious talk concerning the situation.

"We have not been approached in our city council meetings regarding annexation to anybody," Kohlmeier continued, "maybe there has been talk in thh San Mateo City Council but not in ours."

The mayor declared that if San Mateo were so anxious for annexation "maybe they ought to annex themselves to Belmont."

Kohlmeier said San Francisco has been talking about annexing the Peninsula but there has never been anything done about it. "I think the people in Belmont are happy running their own community," the mayor declared, "if we were annexed to anybody there wouldn't be much of a chance that we would get to run things our own way."

City Atty. Paul McCarthy seconded Kohlmeier's statements and declared he did not think the people of Belmont were ready to "relinquish their local autonomy for annexation to anybody."

The attorney said he believed people liked to have their problems solved "locally" and like to have their governing body "close at home." McCarthy said Speers' statement may have been prompted by the fact the people are taking cognizance of Belmont's rapid growth.

"We are the fifth most rapidly growing city, percentagewise, of any city in California," McCarthy said, "and people in neighboring communities are beginning to wake up to the fact."

McCarthy claimed he thought the people of Belmont were bound to their own city government because of the hilly topography of the Belmont area.

"We have our own problems," he said, "and I think the people feel if they let some other city try to solve them for us we'll have a tough time. I think Belmont people would rather paddle their own canoe."

The attorney declared there are statutory provisions providing for annexation of one city to another but that he had "never looked into the annexation business."

Belmont Councilman Donnell B. McCarthy scoffed at Speers' statements regarding an annexation move.

"If there's any annexation business I'd like to see the annexation of the more desirable parts of San Mateo to our city—providing that Hillsborough and Atherton also come in with us," McCarthy declared.

"I have to drive through San Mateo to get to San Francisco once in a while," McCarthy said, "I think there are a couple of parts of San Mateo that might be worth annexing, providing they come up to Belmont's high standing."

Vets: Find Insurance Policy Nos.

Applications on which veterans may file for their shares of the $2,800,000,000 National Service Life Insurance dividend, will be available at the San Mateo County Veterans Service Office in the Courthouse, Redwood City, after Sept. 1, 1949, Floyd D. Granger, Veterans Service Officer, stated today.

To facilitate action on the processing of these applications, Granger urged all applicants to come to the office supplied with their insurance policy number or numbers. Many veterans have lost track of this important information, and it is recommended that those who do not have it in their possession at the present time, make a diligent search of their papers, to avoid delay when their applications reach Washington.

The application for the dividend is a three fold card upon which the veteran writes his full name, service number, insurance policy number and his current address. He retains one third of the card which contains the instructions, and mails the other two parts to the Veterans Administration, Washington, D. C., where the application part of the card is separated and retained. The return acknowledgment portion is then mailed back to the veteran to inform him of receipt. Once the application is received in Washington, it will be processed as rapidly as possible.

The cutoff date for payment of the dividend is the anniversary date of the policy during 1948. The special dividend will not be paid on policies issued after January 1, 1949. The length of time the insurance was in force, the amount of the premium and the type of conversion all will have a bearing on the payment, Veterans Administration officials have pointed out, Granger stated. Any veteran who once held or still holds a National Service Life Insurance policy and who paid three or more monthly payments is eligible for a dividend. Amounts individual veterans will receive are not yet known, as individual calculations have not been completed.

Belmont Track Faces Huge Suit

The Belmont Stadium Inc. was sued today for $160,000 by a San Mateo couple who were injured when a wheel came loose from a racing car and struck them.

The suit was filed in superior court here by Lucille Roth, who was more seriously injured, and her husband, Hermann S. Roth, 30½ Hobart St., San Mateo.

According to the complaint, in which Mrs. Roth is seeking $150,000 and her husband $10,000, the accident occurred on July 16. The Roths were sitting in the third row from the top in the grandstand.

The wheel of a car driven by Chet Richards came loose, and was catapulted into the grandstand, the complaint stated.

The Roths charge that the stadium failed to protect its patrons, and that parts torn loose during collisions easily could fly into the grandstand.

Richards and Racing Roadsters Inc. of Oakland also were named defendants in the suit. The Roths charged that the car driven by Richards was in a dangerously defective mechanical condition.

Playground to Revert To High School Use

Nicotine Field, that part of the Sequoia High School campus between Broadway and the football field along El Camino Real, will be turned back by the Redwood City Council to the school.

The city had a lease on the land which it maintained as a park. Now the school, councilmen said, intends to enlarge the area and connect to a practice football field which has recently been turfed.

Reserve Officers Hear Intelligence Experts Talk

Major Lawrence J. Reiner, Redwood City reserve officer, and Capt. William S. Reilly, intelligence officers of the 3636th Infantry Training Division, organized reserve corps, spoke last night in Palo Alto on combined air force-ground force assault tactics.

The meeting, held in the Palo Alto organized reserve center, 215 Hamilton Ave., was one of the bi-weekly assemblies attended by reserve officers in this area as part of the reserve officer training program.

Major Reiner, 705 Jefferson Ave., served as an air force intelligence officer with the Third Army. He was awarded the bronze star and croix de guerre with silver star.

Major Reiner is the assistant chief of staff in division headquarters. He is employed as a building engineer with the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co. in San Francisco.

Captain Reilly is air-ground officer of the division. He served two years in the China-Burma-India theater as an air intelligence officer with the first air commando group under the command of the famous Colonel Cochrane. During the recapture of Burma he served as air-ground officer with the Fourteenth British-Indian army.

For these services he received two campaign stars, one bronze arrowhead and the Presidential unit citation. Captain Reilly, a field engineer with the U. S. Electrical Motor Co., lives in Palo Alto.

Colonel Rudolph J. Scholz, commanding officer of the unit, announced that there are still openings in the division for qualified reserve officers. The division meets on the first and third Wednesdays of the month at the Palo Alto Organized Reserve center.

The next meeting of the division will be held Aug. 17 at 8 p.m.

Forum Letter

To the Editor:

I feel called upon to express my opinion regarding this much discussed Barden Bill.

I do not object to federal aid to education either, but I do make definite exceptions.

I do not object to my share of the taxes being used by the federal government to aid those states (for example Mississippi) which are in great need of federal aid for their schools.

We call this federal aid by another name in our home, it's just simple Christian charity.

I do object to this Barden Bill because it proposes to further burden the taxpayer by giving the taxpayer's money to every state, whether it needs it or not. We here in California do not need federal aid for our schools. We are one of the wealthiest states in the union, and for the greater part, the rest of the states don't need the aid either.

Now in regards as to how my children fit into the picture as Catholics I have opinions here, too. You say they are not being discriminated against. I have found in the past that your ideas on matters of discrimination and mine diverge sharply. I refer to your editorial about the Negro boy, Alphonse Thompson. I don't admire the chap's methods. I pity him if he's being used by any group to create discord in our little town. Whether he is or isn't, I don't know. However, you have expressed some very unsound reasoning in that first editorial about discrimination.

To get back to the Barden Bill. If this bill were to be fair to my children as citizens of the United States whose taxes benefit other people's children, it would make provisions:

1. To protect his health (if needed) by establishing a plan by which he would get the same care his other American playmates were getting.

2. To give him necessary transportation on public school buses from outlying areas (if needed) in order to help him receive his education (even though it be the one of his parent's choice).

3. To give the use of the same textbooks (non-religious of course) that is provides his other American playmates with.

All these things could be done without aiding the Roman Catholic church one bit, but my children as individuals would personally benefit by the arrangement. And I'm sure Pope Pius XII wouldn't be one bit better off because of it.

I'm sure you realize that one or all of these aids are being granted to Catholic school children all over the United States by individual states. Did you also know that with the passing of the Barden Bill this aid by the state to parochial school children must immediately stop, or federal aid will not be granted?

Doesn't that strike you as being peculiar? Just who or what is behind the Barden Bill, I honestly wonder.

As long as my money will continue to benefit other people's children, please don't use the illogical argument that we Catholics are being illogical in asking that our children share in the benefits also.

When Uncle Sam stops taxing me I'll stop writing letters to the editor.

Sincerely,
Mrs. Aileen E. Foster,
203 Lexington Ave.

P.S. Imagine my surprise to pick up your paper and read the editorial. Was it Mrs. Sitter's information that opened your eyes to the fact that the Barden Bill was unfair to others besides Catholics?

State Assessed Value: 11 Billions

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Locally assessed tangible property has gained 8.3 per cent in value to total $11,727,622,143, State Equalization Board Chmn. William G. Bonelli said today.

The total was figured after the county assessors had reported to the board—meeting here this week for inter-county equalization and assessment of utility properties.

Land values totaled $4,900,276,736, improvement values $5,260,243,385 and personal property $2,158,027,566. Exemptions totaled $590,925,544.

The total value of property subject to local taxation, said Bonelli, will approximate $13,300,000,000—including $1,528,653,220 in state-assessed utility valuation.

Los Angeles County's assessment roll contains 41 per cent of the state total. It increased 7.4 per cent over 1948 to total $4,801,299,910. The new San Francisco total of $942,989,930 is a gain of 4.3 per cent. Alameda totaled $599,761,780, a gain of 5.4 per cent.

Riverside County showed a gain of 59 per cent to lead all others. Thirty-nine counties had gains exceeding the 8.3 per cent state average.

LOCAL ENTRY — A 20-year-old Redwood City native, Miss Mary E. Krenzer (above), became the first semifinalist in the "Miss Orchid" contest of the San Mateo County Fair and Floral Fiesta which opens Aug. 10. Mary was named by judges who observed contestants at the Redwood City Recreation Center. Declaring she entered the contest "just for the fun of it," Mary said she expects to be married in the near future. Her favorite color is blue, favorite composer George Gershwin and of course she has a favorite movie star—Donald O'Connor.

Two School Districts Set New Budgets

Two of the three elementary school districts in South San Mateo County this week held final public hearings on their 1949-50 school budgets.

Menlo Park Elementary School Dist. Board of Trustees failed to muster a quorum and was unable to give final approval to its $253,951 budget.

Supt. M. J. Homfeld said one of the board members, Mrs. Phyllis Campbell, was in Honolulu and another, George Angus, was out of town on business.

State law requires school boards to hold final budget hearings during the first week in August. Homfeld said he expects Angus back before the end of the week.

He said no one appeared at the meeting to protest the budget, but the public hearing would be held later this week at a time to be announced.

Ravenswood Elementary School Dist. trustees adopted the 1949-50 budget of $328,987. This year's budget is an increase of $70,208 over last year.

Supt. Stanley Schnepple explained that the budget provided for salary increases ranging from 6 to 20 per cent and that teachers' starting salaries were raised from $2400 to $2800 per year. Salary adjustments were made possible by the special school tax approved by voters of the district last May 20.

Las Lomitas Elementary School Board approved a budget of $84,813, an increase of $10,000 over last year. The budget provides $44,500 for teachers' salaries, $5300 for the administrator's salary, $10,622 for continued development of the school plant, $6160 for plant operation, and $4000 for maintenance.

Supt. Charles Niederhauser said he expects average daily attendance to increase from 363 to 400 students this year.

Green Light Given

The go-ahead signal was given this week by the Redwood City council to a state project to synchronize traffic lights along El Camino Real.

Councilmen voted to contribute $23,000 towards the projects which will see new signals all along the state highway inside city limits. Cables for the lights will be run underground.

City Engineer Glenn Jain said the state had completed plans and was ready to go ahead with the project as soon as the city agreed to pay its share of the cost.

Burglars Play Havoc With RC Bridegroom

As if being a bridegroom weren't enough strain on a man's nerves, the San Francisco Police Dept. and a couple of burglary suspects had to make things even harder for a Redwood City man Sunday.

Police charge that the two suspects pinched the bridegroom's suit while he was enjoying his first meal in a San Francisco restaurant as a married man. The cops got the suit back, all right, but they impounded it for evidence and the newlyweds had to go on their honeymoon without it.

The victim-groom is Earle A. Whitney, 21, 449 2nd Ave., the son of Mrs. M. E. Whitney.

Saturday at 4:30 p.m. he and Peggy Wickert of San Francisco, who has been keeping company with him since junior high school, were married at the Presbyterian Church at Ocean Ave. and Mission St. in San Francisco.

After that the Sequoia High School graduate, his bride and the wedding party went to Venetto's Restaurant at Bay and Mason Sts. for a wedding party.

While they were inside the restaurant, Patrolman Milton Piro, off duty and in plain clothes, saw two men entering Whitney's car. He gave chase, captured one of the men and recovered the suit. The other was nabbed a few hours later and both were taken, along with the suit, to police headquarters.

The groom's mother said that not only did her son leave without his new suit, but he just about left without his driver's license. He gave that to police while identifying himself and then, addled by marriage and the police, forgot it. His brother, Gale, recovered it in time to return it before the newlyweds left for Lake Tahoe.

His mother said that she believed his mother-in-law, Mrs. Walter Wickert, had recovered the suit today from the police and would hold it until the couple returns.

The groom is an insurance underwriter for the Fireman's Fund.

Held for suspicion of theft were Cecil Radcliff, 225 Taylor St., and Arthur Everhart, 1456 Jones St.

7 Persons Hurt in County Over Weekend

Seven persons were injured in four automobile accidents during the weekend in the unincorporated parts of San Mateo County, the California Highway Patrol reported today.

Four were hurt in a three-car pileup a few minutes before midnight Sunday south of Geneva Ave., on the approach to Boneyard Hill.

Mrs. Avon L. Wright 22, San Francisco, suffered a cut scalp and a possible broken right knee; and the three others suffered cuts and bruises. They are Harold M. Dye, 45, of 1375 Eaton Ave., San Carlos; Mrs. Virginia Dye, 45, and Donald Dye, 20, of the USS Toledo, now in San Francisco.

The CHP reported that the accident occurred on a curve of Bayshore Hwy., and involved the southbound car driven by Mrs. Wright and the northbound cars operated by Mrs. Dye and Wallace C. Brooks, 25, of 534 Hudson Ave., Redwood City.

Mrs. Wright's car came to rest on the east shoulder of Bayshore Hwy., 25 feet from the road. The injured were treated at South San Francisco Hospital.

Three-year-old Sharon Ann Lindley was in Mills Memorial Hospital due to injuries she suffered when a rear wheel of her father's car ran over her legs.

The accident occurred at the Milky Lane Dairy, northeast of Pescadero, Sunday morning.

The father, Walter R. Lindley, parked his sedan near the house, leaving the car in gear. The little girl climbed behind the wheel, and shifted the car into neutral. When the car started to roll downhill, the girl jumped out of the car and fell under the wheel.

Ida Finkenkeller, 65, of 189 Poplar Ave., San Bruno, suffered cuts about her legs last night when she was hit by a car in Lomita Park.

The CHP stated that Mrs. Finkenkeller was crossing El Camino Real when she was struck by a pickup truck driven by Arthur D. Graalts, 47, a cabinet shop owner who lives at 539 Beech Ave., San Bruno.

Maryanna J. Morgan, 29, a Palo Alto Hospital nurses aide who lives at 655 Santa Rita Ave., Palo Alto, suffered a cut on her forehead early Sunday when the car she was driving was involved in an accident.

Magazine Hails Success Of RC Manufacturing Firm

"Fortune" for August tells the "shamelessly old-fashioned" success stories of six California corporations, and leads with National Motor Bearing Co. of Redwood City. The six firms, according to the "Fortune" caption, "grew up from nothing — except men and ideas."

"In Redwood City, 20 miles down the peninsula from San Francisco, is the world's largest manufacturer of oil seals," the article announces. "National Motor Bearing sales have expanded approximately 11 times in the past 10 years—from $787,000 to an annual rate of about $9 million in the first two quarters of 1949.

"Profits so far this year are running at the good round rate of $1 million. Sixty per cent of the company's stock is held by Pres. Lloyd Johnson and his two brothers, one a vice president, the other a San Francisco real estate man who sits on the NMB board.

"The company does about 85 per cent of its business outside the seven far-western states. Its biggest customers are the automobile, truck, farm-equipment and machinery manufacturers of Michigan, Ohio, Illinois and Wisconsin (there are eight to fourteen oil seals on your car). There is no particular reason why the National Motor Bearing Co. should be in California—except that Lloyd Johnson grew up in California, started the company there, and wouldn't think of living anywhere else."

The magazine article recounts the early history of the firm, including its moves from San Francisco, to Oakland, and finally to its "handsome new plant in Redwood City."

"Since the war, about $1 million has been committed to plant expansion," the article continues. "Van Wert, (O.) its capacity now doubled, handles most of the seals produced in heavy volume for Detroit. Redwood City supplies the West Coast auto assembly plants and also makes the rest of the line, including some seals that might be regarded as custom-built, such as a $30 job to fit a 12-inch shaft . . . A Los Angeles subsidiary, the Arrowhead Rubber Co., is soon to get a new plant. . .

"It would be easy to overdraw the regional contrast, but there is still something impressive about the California industrialist's thoroughly cheerful admission that the owners of a business expect to make some money from it. The East is edgier about such things."

The other firms in the Fortune round-up are Marchant Calculating, Schlage Lock, Solar Aircraft, Byron Jackson and Norris Stamp & Manufacturing.

RC Councilmen Okeh Purchases

Redwood City councilmen, after considering bids Monday, decided to purchase the following equipment:

From the Weltner Motor Co. a one and a half ton dump truck for $2934.90.

From E. R. Bacon a spreader box, $1245.27.

From Howard Overby Motor Co., two motorcycles at $709.48 net each after trade-ins, and one three-wheel cycle at $835.87 net.

From Bob Wondries Motors a one and a half ton flat bed truck at $1463.92.

SC Kiwanians Hear How to Tell Bad Checks

San Carlos Kiwanis Club members, meeting for luncheon at the Villa Chartier Monday noon were advised by Howard R. Taylor on how to avoid the pitfalls dug by the seasoned crook. How to recognize and avoid the worthless check was one of the points made by Taylor, a private investigator who formerly carried on investigations for the government.

July Worst Month For Polio: Dr. Wynn

Last month was the worst this year so far as infantile paralysis is concerned, and the disease reached the epidemic stage, the San Mateo County Health and Welfare Dept. reported today.

Dr. Harlan Wynns, superintendent of the health division, said that 31 cases have occurred to date this year, and of them 13 occurred in July.

The epidemic, which last year was most severe in the Southern end of the county, this year is centering farther north. Of the 31 cases, 11 occurred in San Mateo.

The children falling in the 1 to 9 year age group suffered the greatest incidence of the disease, with 16 cases, but the older persons have the disease in a more serious degree.

Of the four persons who died of polio, three were in the 30 to 39 age group. The fourth was a 2-month-old baby. Dr. Wynns said that in the 30-39 age group the mortality rate was 75 per cent this year, since three of the four persons in that group who contracted polio died.

Four cases were diagnosed at the end of the month, and the patients admitted to Community Hospital. They were the cases of a 25-year-old Belmont woman, who died, a 27-year-old San Mateo woman, a 4-year-old Redwood City boy, and a 5-year-old Burlingame boy.

Dr. Wynns reported that the breakdown by cities this year is as follows:

South San Francisco 3; Daly City 1; San Bruno 2; Burlingame 1; San Mateo 11; Belmont 2; San Carlos 4, Redwood City 4; Menlo Park 2; and Half Moon Bay 1.

By ages:
0-1 years, 1; 1-9 years, 16; 10-19 years, 4; 20-29 years, 6; 30-39 years, 4.

Of the 31 cases, 18 were male and 13 female, with two fatalities in each sex group.

June was the second highest month with 9 cases. Of the others, 3 occurred in January, 2 in February, 1 in April, 3 in May.

Dr. Wynns said that the best prevention against polio is to avoid fatigue.

MP Rental Survey Tells Vancancies

More than 150 rental units of all types were reported in Menlo Park in the telephone rental survey conducted this week by the fair rent committee.

Dave Ingram Jr., chairman of the committee, said today that preliminary tabulation indicated a vacancy ratio of about 10 per cent.

"It looks as though we will have sufficient data to petition the Menlo Park city council for decontrol of rents within the city," Ingram said.

The Menlo Park Real Estate Board was scheduled to meet today to consider the data. The information gathered in the survey will be compiled in a report to be presented to the council along with a petition.

If the city council considers the petition and report justifies a public hearing the council may, if it desires, pass a resolution requesting Governor Warren to decontrol rents in Menlo Park.

The governor has created a decontrol board which weighs the merits of each case and passes its recommendations on to the governor. If the governor approves the decontrol action, he notifies the federal housing expediter, who automatically must place his stamp of approval on the decontrol within 20 days.

Bus Line Seeks Rate Boost Here

The Peninsula Transit Lines has applied to the state public utilities commission for a rate increase in Palo Alto and Redwood City, according to Worth Prine, general manager of the lines.

Prine said the local bus company is asking an increase in rates from 10 cents to 11 cents. The line is asking the increase, Prine said, to keep up with operating costs and to keep equipment in proper condition.

The manager said there were no plans for extension of service in the Redwood City area but that there were "some plans" for extending the service in the Palo Alto area.

Prine said that a new fare of 7½ cents will be offered to all bona fide student passengers. This will be a new price change in the Redwood City lines but the "student" bus ticket previously had been offered to Palo Alto students within certain age groups. He said the new charge will be made to all bona fide students, regardless of age.

The bus company is also asking abolition of half fares for children and the 14-trip commutation books. In turn, 30 rides will be offered for a $3 fare.

Harbor Blvd. Work Completed

Reconstruction of Harbor Blvd. was completed by Contractor L. C. Smith Saturday, two days ahead of schedule.

The road leading from Bayshore Hwy. to the Port of Redwood City was brought up level at all places, reinforced on the shoulders and resurfaced.

The job is expected to cost approximately $48,000.

In the future, the speed limit on the road will be 35 miles an hour.

Cost of the repaving will be borne by the city, the Port of Redwood City and the federal government which will make a contribution to compensate for damages to the road when it was used by the navy during the war.

Smith Elected To Realty Board

Robert G. Smith, formerly a realtor in Santa Cruz County and now located at 3253 Middlefield Rd., has been accepted as a member of the Central San Mateo County Real Estate Board which is affiliated with the State and National Assn. of Real Estate Boards.

The Bob Smith office is located at 7th Ave. and Middlefield Rd. His staff consists of his wife, Mrs. Maybel Smith, and Mrs. Iva W. Elkins, a real estate broker and notary public.

The next meeting will be a membership initiation at Cherington Hall on Aug. 4 at 8 p.m. Helen Smith of Los Gatos, Bay Dist. membership chairman, will be guest speaker.

"To my friends near and far and to my beloved state and nation I wish security and peace."

Veteran's Picnic Aired by VFW

A veterans' picnic will highlight this month's activities of the Cpl. J. L. Wilson Post 2310, Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Les Dernier, senior vice commander of the local veterans' organization, disclosed plans for the picnic at this week's meeting of the VFW at Veterans' Hall.

Dernier presided at the meeting in the absence of Commander P. C. Kirk.

The vice commander said 10 local veteran organizations will participate in the picnic which will be held at Flood Park on Aug. 28.

Dernier disclosed that the VFW will be one of the marching groups appearing in the opening parade of the San Mateo County Fair and Floral Fiesta, Aug. 10 at 7:30 p.m.

In other action at last night's meeting the VFW group voted unanimously to establish a blood bank in the unit.

At the close of the business meeting the veterans enjoyed sound movies, "Joe's Kid," an official VFW film, and a film "Nazi Version of the Normandy Invasion," shown by Chief Pete Foulger, local navy recruiting officer.

Moving Regulations Passed by RC Council

An ordinance regulating the moving of buildings was adopted this week by the Redwood City council.

The ordinance makes it necessary to post both the house on its original site and the lot to which it will be moved and to hold a public hearing before the planning commission, before the council can grant permission for any move.

Council also adopted an ordinance giving the National Motor Bearing Co. a franchise to install a water main on city owned land along Broadway in front of the NMB plant. The line will form one side of a fire sprinkler system loop.

Find Man's Body At Moss Beach

The body of a man believed to have drowned while swimming six weeks ago, was found on the beach at Moss Beach at noon Tuesday.

Chief Dep. Sheriff Walter Moore said he believed the man to be Harry W. Svirbely, 41, San Francisco, who drowned on June 19 in the ocean off Montara while swimming with a friend. Mr. Svirbely's body was not recovered then.

The report of the finding of the body was given to Dep. Sheriff Don Harnett by Charles Nye, the sheriff's office reported.

Hartnett said that the man was wearing maroon swimming trunks. The body was taken to Dutra's Funeral Home in Half Moon Bay, where positive identification was to be made.

Rotarians Hear Of Philippines

The coming national election in the Philippine Islands was discussed this week by Humphrey Leynse during a meeting of the Redwood City Rotary Club at Ramor Oaks.

Leysne, a member of the U. S. Counter Intelligence Corps during World War II and now working for his doctorate at Stanford, warned of the return to power in the Philippines of Jose Laurel, and how this avowed opponent of the United States has a strong chance of being elected president of that territory.

The speaker was introduced by Program Chmn. Dan Robertson. Pres. W. Paul Whaley presided.
